Rules for the Auction:

The Arkansas Department of Correction reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The Arkansas Department of Correction is not held liable for injuries or damages that may occur to or from horse.

Animals must be paid for in full before loading unless arrangements have been made.. ADC employees/staff will load out animals.

Animals will not be held over night of the sale. All animals will be loaded out day of auction.

Personal checks, cash, money orders, or certified checks are accepted.

Must have valid identification.

If disagreement with auctioneer, the bid will begin over at last bid taken.

For safety once the auction begins, public will need to be seated in the auction arena, no longer viewing animals.

If you are moving your animal out of state, Dr. Larry Phillington, veterinarian, will be available for health papers.

Once the animal is loaded on a trailer for transport, it becomes the property of the owner.

Certification papers of Coggins test will be available for each animal.

It is the desire of the Arkansas Department of Correction to maintain a satisfactory relationship with the buyer, both honesty and integrity in the representation of the horses. Arkansas Department of Correction Agriculture Division is proud of the horses and their use.
